

Brought to you by:

No Placement... No Program... Now What? Tutoring in New York State

April 14 6 -7:30pm - virtual

When students cannot attend school or an appropriate program is unavailable, tutoring is often the only means of access to education. In New York State, tutoring is frequently used—but often inconsistently applied, misunderstood, or delayed—leaving students without meaningful instruction.

This session focuses specifically on tutoring in NYS: what it is, when it must be provided, how it differs from home/hospital instruction, and what schools are required to do when students are seeking an appropriate placement.

Intended audience includes parents, educators, students, & community members.

Presented by:

- Parent Attorney Jane Gabriele,
Student Attorney Laura Marks
- School Administrators Lynn Carragher, Rachel Hawkins
& Monica Stadler
- Parent Rebecca Efigenio

Register Here

For more information call 585-371-6742

or email cknaak@starbridgeinc.org

New York State Special Education Task Force

The New York State Special Education Task Force is a regional task force focused on improving the educational outcomes of students with disabilities.

